Thank you so much for your interest in our school. We invite you to peruse the enclosed information, to explore our website, our Facebook page, and to visit our school and see for yourself the beauty of what happens daily here at Levey Day School. We truly cultivate the mind, body and spirit in a nurturing, pluralistic and diverse Jewish environment.

As Head of School, I see magic happen inside and outside of the classrooms. Students here have the opportunity to study meaningful subject matter in an integrated manner, learning deeply and enjoying making connections. They study a strong program of academics combined with arts, Hebrew language and Jewish values and traditions, along the way become exceedingly well rounded individuals, engaged and curious students, and people with strong identities and a moral base.

Please call or email to set up a personal visit when you are able. The enclosed admissions checklist spells out our procedures. We welcome guests and "Our House" is always open to prospective families. Do not hesitate to contact me or Nancy Markovsky, our Office Manager with questions about our school or about the application process.

I look forward to getting to know you and your child(ren) in the weeks to come.

Sincerely,

Gerri Chizeck
Head of School
